Dear Dr. Lederberg:

We are enclosing a copy of "Behavioral Factors and Cardiovascular Disease," a report of a conference held earlier this year, co-sponsored by the National Heart Institute and the National Institute of Mental Health. At this time we are sending this paper (which you will note is marked "Administrative-Confidential") to only a few consultants, including selected members of our Divisional Advisory Committee and of Divisional initial review groups. You are the only member of the Council to whom we are providing a copy at this time. Following further staff study and consultant reaction we are tentatively planning to make a presentation on this topic to the NAMHC at its September meeting. We would be more than grateful for a thoughtful reaction from you to help us in planning further developments in this obviously very important research area.

Sincerely yours,

Louis A. Wienckowski
